Student Support Services & Facilities

Student Welfare Support

To assist you while studying at SIC, we have student support officers who provide ongoing support services to students. The student support officers are friendly and they can give personal advice and assistance to students in many areas including academic advice, student visas, health insurance, welfare, social activities and effective study methods. They are also the initial point of contact for all students.

Information for international students under 18 years of age – Please refer to our website and read International Students Under 18 Years of Age Policy for more information.

Orientation & Enrolment

Our orientation is usually held on the friday prior to the course commencement dates and starts at 9.00 am. It is compulsory for all newly arriving international students. At the orientation, students will get to meet our friendly staff, have a tour of the campus, receive student time-table, ID card and have a chance to ask any questions about the course and living in Australia.

Academic Support

Academic staff at SIC are all highly qualified and are up-to-date with the most current industry information as well as having all the required academic credentials to ensure you, as a student, are trained for success in your future career.

Accommodation

At SIC, we are more than happy to assist you with locating accommodation for your period of study with us. SIC provides accommodation through our preferred homestay and accommodation service providers in Sydney.

HSN - Homestay Network is a network of like-minded families who want to share their lifestyle with an international student to create lifelong memories.

HSN - Homestay Network was founded in 1987 to provide accommodation for academic and student visitors. HSN are Sydney's original and premium homestay provider. For further information please refer to the Homestay Network official website (www.homestaynetwork.com.au)

Airport Pickup

An Airport pick-up service is available for new students arriving in Sydney for the first time. This service includes collecting you from the airport and driving you safely to your accommodation. You need to send an accommodation request form with your application to admission@sic.edu.au. Alternatively, you can also use public transport from the airport to reach the city centre. Please refer to the Airport official website (www.sydneyairport.com.au).

OSHC

Overseas Student Health Cover is mandatory for international students in Australia. The health care system in Australia is one of the best but the cost of treatment can be expensive. While you are enjoying your student life in Sydney, the last thing you want to worry about is medical expenses if you get sick or have an accident. It is a visa requirement that all international students have Overseas Student Health Cover (OSHC) for the duration of their student visa. OSHC is insurance to assist international students meet the costs of medical and hospital care that they may need while in Australia. OSHC will also pay limited benefits for pharmaceuticals and ambulance services. You may arrange your OSHC through agents or by yourself. SIC is proud to partner with Bupa as the leading health and care provider in Australia. Bupa offers the best quality care and servicing and offers a range of benefits to make sure your health is in good hands and you are covered in case of any emergencies. Bupa also offers a large network of retail centres in case you need to chat to someone about your membership, great discounts and member exclusive from a number of partner providers and a large doctor network. Information on BUPA's website can also be utilised to ensure students understand how to use their cover.

Studying & Living in Sydney, Australia

Heart of Sydney

If you are looking for a safe and friendly destination offering a dynamic, multicultural experience while you study, look no further than Sydney. The oldest city in Australia, Sydney is the country's economic and financial hub, and is home to the regional headquarters of around 500 multinational companies. Wherever you choose to develop your career, Sydney is the perfect place to start. Australia is famous for its relaxed lifestyle, astounding landscapes, and high standards – particularly in education and healthcare. First inhabited by Indigenous people at least 50,000 years ago, Australia has attracted people from more than 200 countries to study and migrate. Wherever you come from, you are likely to find people from your country who have made their home 'Down Under'.

All our VET courses are government approved, so they are recognised by Australian Universities and Higher Education Providers. You may be eligible to receive credit towards a Bachelor's degree program if you have studied Diploma or Advanced Diploma qualification with SIC. These credits (or exemptions) are normally granted on a case by case basis, so we suggest that when you finish your course here at SIC, you approach the university or Higher Education provider of your choice and find out what credits they will grant you. The savings brought by transfer credits can be substantial. SIC has articulation arrangement with Australian Institute of Higher Education (CRICOS Provider Code 03147A) and King's Own Institute (CRICOS Provider Code 03171A).

Student Visa

Information

All international students intending to enter Australia to study must apply for a student visa (an exception may be for students offered a program, such as an English language course, of less than three months). Details of the Australian Diplomatic Offices around the world where applications for a student visa can be lodged are available at the Department of Home Affairs (www.homeaffairs.gov.au) website. International students normally must obtain a student visa before they travel to Australia. However, students from selected countries may apply for a student visa after arrival in Australia on a temporary entry visa. Again, details may be obtained from the nearest Australian Diplomatic Office. Student visas are issued for full-time study. International students cannot study part-time. Students must provide evidence that they have sufficient funds to cover their tuition fees and living expenses whilst in Australia. Once enrolled, students must complete 6 calendar months of their principal course of study of their program before they can change to another education institution in Australia unless special permission is obtained.
